Adam Bowers | 5/21/2023 | Acts 13:13-52

1. Which one are you? What about your spouse or best friend?

2. Paul was intentionally inclusive of the Gentiles who joined the Jews in the synagogue. How can we be more welcoming of people who may be different or feel like they are in the minority in our fellowship?
3. Take a look at Paul's sermon in Acts 13:16-41. What part do you find the most compelling or interesting?
4. Did you learn anything new from the message about how salvation worked in the Old Testament era? How did the sacrifices connect with salvation if they were not a means to bring salvation?
5. At the end of Acts 13, the Jewish leaders stir up a mob against Paul and Barnabas, but the new believers are filled with joy. What explains this radical reaction in this face of opposition? How can you have joy in difficult situations today?
